

Neil Kelly Advertises in The Columbian Because it Helps Build Business

Survey Says... 50% of attendees to a recent seminar came from ads in The Columbian.

“ We at Neil Kelly have advertised with the Columbian for a number of years, promoting both our Saturday Seminars and our Handyman Home Repair Team. This last fall, we were very pleased to see a large number of homeowners who attended our seminars who saw our ads in The Columbian. Our ads literally jumped off the page. A survey of customers told us that over 50% of the attendees at our North Portland seminar heard about us in The Columbian.

Many of our employees live in Clark County, so one of our marketing strategies is to gain more business there. The Columbian has been the center of that strategy.”
